Isaac Netti

Portfolio Website

I will be making a portfolio website simply called Isaac Netti. This website will be designed to market me to potential employers. It will highlight my past and current projects as well as my skills in development. I will also include my work experiences and possibly some references. This website is designed to be an extended resume to show off my more techy talents and to give those interested a place to easily see what I've done, what I'm up to, and how to contact me.

Pages

1. Home page
2. Projects
3. Experiences
4. College life
5. Contact me

I want to store a mutable list of my projects, with a nice clean template to easily add more as I work on more and easily remove a project that doesn't meet my current standard of work. Only I will be able to add and remove projects
